AFC General Secretary's Message

Dear football family,

It is with great pride that I welcome you to the latest programme by the AFC Academic Centre of Excellence (ACE) - the AFC Certificate in Child Safeguarding (ACCS).

As the governing body of Asian football, the AFC is firmly committed to protecting the rights of children and ensuring that football is played within a safe, positive and encouraging atmosphere for all children.

As underlined in our Vision and Mission, social responsibility remains a key focus area for the AFC and the three main pillars of Child Safeguarding, Education and Social Inclusion continue to be at the forefront of all our endeavours.

In recent years, the AFC has made tremendous progress in promoting child safeguarding by focusing on areas of governance and key operations, which include mandating the appointment of a Child Safeguarding Officer under the AFC Enhance Programme Regulations, in addition to launching the AFC Child Safeguarding Policy.

While the AFC continues to play a significant role in developing the capacities of Member Associations (MAs) and Regional Associations (RAs) to strengthen their child safeguarding practices in football, there is a need to further empower our stakeholders in developing, implementing, and strengthening Child Safeguarding systems on their own.

The ACCS has been designed for this purpose and includes modules that cover the AFC Child Safeguarding system, risk and impact management in child safeguarding, leadership in safeguarding, individual roles in safeguarding children, communicating child safeguarding to various stakeholders and other critical aspects.

Every child deserves a safe and conducive environment in which to enjoy football, and through the delivery of the ACCS' curated content, we are confident that participants will be equipped with the required competencies to further develop Asian football with the utmost integrity.

Most importantly, the ACCS - the latest in the ACE's range of purposeful and transformative programmes - will serve to further reinforce the AFC's Vision and Mission of strengthening the capabilities of our MAs, RAs and the wider Asian football ecosystem.

Datuk Seri Windsor John
AFC General Secretary

Programme Overview

Children have the right to be safe from harm at all times, including and especially within the football environment.

To help achieve this, we offer the AFC Certificate in Child Safeguarding (ACCS) programme, which consists of (3) three different courses:

It is designed to equip participants with the practical knowledge they need in order to implement policies and systems to keep children safe from harm in football.

It will define child safeguarding and provide an understanding of its concepts and best practices, and why child safeguarding is important in football.

The programme will also equip participants with the skills to identify and reduce the risk of harm to children, and to report and manage child safeguarding concerns safely and confidentially, in addition to providing guidance on the day-to-day practical applications of child safeguarding within an organisation.

This online programme welcomes independent applicants, regardless of their direct or indirect connection to football and/or the larger sporting ecosystem and in particular the AFC stakeholders as it would provide an understanding of the AFC's child safeguarding expectations.
